

Weekly Update

Friday 10th May

Happy Friday! The sun is shining, and the grass has (finally) been cut. As we get into the warmer months, please ensure the pupils have a bottle, hat, and come into school wearing their sunscreen.

We are almost halfway through the Arrow Valley Reading month with pupils receiving reading tickets for every read. The excitement is mounting about winning some of the reading prizes, books, squish mellowes, and vouchers. Pupils who read at home or watch a phonics video, will get an entry into the prize draw, if it is recorded in their reading diary.

Name

Class

On Friday 24th May at 2.30 parents are invited to come and join in the 'big read'. Parents can enter school via the main entrance and share a book with their children.

SCHOOL NURSE

This week we had a visit from the school nurse, although we don't always see much of them, they are still busy in the background supporting families. She has asked me to send the link from the Starting Well Partnership. They support families to be healthy and happy, which includes parenting groups and help lines for children who suffer from anxiety.

If you ever need support, we are always here! Dojo, tapestry, and emails are always welcome, but you can always knock the door and we can see what we can do. We may not have the lottery numbers, but we are always good for a cup of tea and a chat.
